VOTING PRECINCT READY—Hancock County Supervisor Robert Peterson, right, and Tommy Moran, county buildings and grounds maintenance foreman, check repairs at the Ansley voting precinct on Friday in preparation for Super Tuesday's Democratic and Republican primary elections. Election Commissioner Jimmy Ladner had recently made a request before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to have the building upgraded. Moran said the precinct did not even have electricity. Repairs included painting, door replacement, electricity and a heating and cooling unit. Moran, with a maintenance crew of two and some Hancock County trustees, in addition to other duties, have been busy repairing voting precincts in recent weeks on a priority basis. There are roofs needing replacement and painting to be done, in addition to other repairs on voting precincts with plans calling for all to be completely renovated by the general election in November, Moran said. NEW LAKE?—Cedar Point resident Hunter Kimbrough's back yard was just a large lake on Friday morning after heavy rains on Thursday and Friday nights. The 806 N. Beach, Bay St. Louis resident said this was highest he had seen the water behind his house in 25 years of residency. A culvert under Beach Boulevard at the natural drain apparently has had some type of hidden cave-in, Bill Johnson, Hancock County maintenance superintendent stated late Friday. Johnson, who had been in contact with the county engineer and Bay St. Louis mayor on Friday, said the culvert is among several which are to be replaced during the next Beach Road contract let by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. Johnson indicated his crews would be surveying the culvert next week to see if temporary repairs are possible until the culvert is replaced. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Party executives fearful of light voter turnout for Super Tuesday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

In spite of the significance of four elected positions on Tuesday's ballot, Hancock County Democratic and Republican party officials are fearful low key and low budget campaigns will result in a light voter turnout.

"I just can't get anybody psyched up for this election," said Hilda Bourg, Democrat Executive Committee chairman.

"People are not thinking about this election being for a senate seat that will be there for six years," she added.

Mike Smith, Republican Executive Committee chairman, said also it has been hard to get people interested in the election.

"But we are still hoping we will have a good voter turnout," he said.

Voters Tuesday will make their selections for Fifth District Representative from a field of five Republicans and six Democrats.

Vying for the seat to be vacated by Congressman Trent Lott are Republicans George Robert Hall, Glenn W. Mitchell, Christopher Roosa, Larkin I. Smith and Richard Vogel.

Democrat candidates for the seat include Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis. Taylor is currently serving as a state senator from the Hancock County area.

Other Democrat candidates are Arlon (Blackie) Coate, Doss Fowler, Jim McVeay, Joe Stone, Gene Taylor, Glenn L. White.

Lott is unopposed in his bid for nomination as Republican candidate for the United States Senate seat to be vacated by John C. Stennis.

Three Democrats are in the primary for the nomination. They are Wayne Dowdy, Gilbert Fountain and Dick Molpus.

John Henry Crouch is unopposed in the primary for the Republican nomination of Supreme Court Judge District 2.

Among the Democrats seeking this Supreme Court nomination are Eugene L. (Gene) Fair, Ed Pittman, Alonzo Holmes Sturgeon and Jon A. Swartzfager.

Voters will also be expressing their Presidential preference.

Republican voters will choose from George Bush, Bob Dole, Pete DuPont, Alexander M. Haig, Jack Kemp and Pat Robertson.

Democrat voters must choose from a field of eight including Bruce Babbitt, Michael S. Dukakis, Richard Gephardt, Al Gore, Gary Hart, Jesse Jackson, Lyndon H. LaRouche Jr. and Paul Simon.

Voting will be conducted at the same precinct locations as for county elections and precincts will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The votes will be counted at the Hancock County Court House Tuesday night.

Income from detainees continues, replacing free labor will wait

By DENA BISNETTE

While the Hancock County Jail has been able to continue the income the county temporarily lost when a group of Cuban detainees was released, the free labor those people were supplying will not be immediately replaced.

According to Jailer Jim Odom, a new group of 22 detainees from the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) has replaced the 18 Cubans, the last of whom left Hancock County two weeks ago.

The county started housing federal prisoners in March 1986 as a means of generating income for the jail. The INS pays $45 per day for the housing of each federal prisoner or detainee, with an additional dollar per day furnished to each prisoner or detainee as spending money.

The current group of 22 detainees will furnish an average of $27,000 per month, an amount that completely covers the jail budget and allows the facility to remain self-sufficient, Odom added.

"At present, no tax revenue that goes into the sheriff's department has to be used for the jail, he explained.

What was also particularly useful about the Cubans was that every one of them had trusty status, which meant that they could be used for community service work outside the jail, the warden said.

While state and county prisoners are now being used on the sheriff's department farm to replace the Cuban trusties, there are not enough of those jail inmates to replace all of the free labor the county lost.

In addition, the new group of federal detainees can not be used to work outside the secured area of the jail because some of them will be released too soon and some of them are not of the minimum security classification that can be used.

These particular detainees will be in Hancock County for six months or less, Odom said.

One prisoner, a Nicaraguan national, was released the day after he arrived at the jail, the warden added.

The remaining 22 include people from Haiti, Trinidad, Jamaica, Honduras, Peru, Canada, Cuba and El Salvador.

He said INS officials told him that some are expected to be released and the others are expected to be deported.

Odom said he is working with John Caplinger, district head of the INS in New Orleans, La., to make arrangements to replace the present group of detainees with prisoners who can be used to work outside the secured area of the jail.

Among the workers Odom said were lost when the Cubans left were mechanic and body repairmen who had worked at the county maintenance barn.

Proposed railroad speed bill scheduled for committee

By DENA BISNETTE

A legislative committee hearing on a proposed bill that would allow the state a part in regulating railroad speeds is scheduled for a vote on Tuesday.

According to David Marquar of Waveland, who serves as state legislative director for Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees, the vote will close nearly two weeks of testimony before the State House of Representatives' public utilities subcommittee.

Marquar said the bill was introduced by Rep. Bob Short of Gulfport and is being strongly supported by Rep. J.P. Compertta of Bay St. Louis. The bill would allow the Mississippi Public Service Commission to regulate the speeds of trains passing through populated areas.

Marquar explained that the committee was, when he left Jackson on Friday, awaiting results of a request that the State Attorney General's Office allow an option on some of the language in the bill, as well as a Public Service Commission request for clarification of certain points.

The only Gulf Coast Representtative on the committee, Isaiah Fredericks, is also a proponent of Bay St. Louis man charged with possession of marijuana

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Charles L. Kinsey, 29, of 223 Bay Oaks Drive, Bay St. Louis was arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute.

Hancock Sheriff's Investigator Glen Strong said a search warrant was issued approximately 8 p.m. Thursday night for Kinsey's residence and in the search sheriff's department officers seized about one-half pound of marijuana, scales and other drug paraphernalia.

Kinsey was released on $3,000 bond.

Assisting with the arrest and search were sheriff's department officers Matt Karl, Steve Garber, Tommy Powell, Gus Garcia and Sharon Raphael.

FAIRGROUNDS IMPROVEMENTS—An inspection team checks the progress of renovations at the Hancock County Fairgrounds building owned by Bill King of King Construction in Ocean Springs points out vents for a new air-conditioning and heating system. From left are Hancock County Beat Five Supervisor Michael Ladner, County Fire Marshal Jay Marsh, County Maintenance

Superintendent Bill Johnson and King. Improvements also included dropped ceilings, new lighting and painting in the 30,000 square-foot structure. Ladner said cost for the renovations is about $150,000 and that more work is planned, including paving of the parking area. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Alcohol and drug group elects officers

NEW ORLEANS, La.—At its annual meeting Tuesday, Jan. 26 the Board of Directors of the Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse for Greater New Orleans, a United Way Agency and home of the 524 H-E-L-P number, elected the following slate of officers for 1988:

John M. Key, president; Claude H. Bourgeois, first vice president; Joseph A. Piazza, second vice president; James F. Terrell Jr., third vice president; Elliott J. Keyes, secretary; and Lee H. Borden, treasurer.

Board members reelected for a period of three years, included Joseph A. Piazza, Narvin Kimball, Dr. William R. Sorum, Ms. Rosemary Hanle, Claude H. Bourgeois, and Judge Salvatore Mule.

New members elected to the board included Mrs. Myra Fillimon, J.R. (Robbie) Petley, and David Hanrath, all of whom were elected for a term of three years.

Elected to the board for a period of two years, was Reverend Conrad Edwards.

In a report made by John M. Key, president, on the status of the agency and its involvement in 1987, the following were highlighted:

CADA continues to conduct PTA presentation, classroom programs, teacher training, and programs in colleges, nursing schools, senior citizen groups, youth organizations, clubs, churches, church groups, law enforcement agencies, hospitals, institutions, and wherever it is invited to do so.

One of the significant accomplishments of the past year was the inauguration of a toll free number to serve citizens outside the calling area of the 524 H-E-L-P number.

Dialing 1-800-228-9711 (wait for tone) then dial 601 brings the caller in direct contact with the Help line, which is the most sophisticated information and referral line in the area.

It is backed by a comprehensive referral system with information and resources for every conceivable problem and human need, has "patching" capabilities allowing callers to be put in direct touch with other facilities, and 24 hour emergency service. Last year the line handled in excess of 80,000 calls.

The agency began operation in 1987 at its new location on Metairie Road, with easy access to parking and public transportation.

CADA continues to assist in DWI programs and substance abuse programs associated with DWI offenses. It has developed an outstanding program for clients in attendance.

The Save the Holidays Commemoration conducted from Thanksgiving through New Year's was a tremendous success. In addition to posters, spots, and other mass media efforts, the office was literally flooded with calls, thanks to the coverage which the media gave in printed and electronic exposure.

Special appreciation was expressed by the president to the radio and television media and local newspapers for coverage given to CADA messages and news releases throughout the year, without which the public could not have been made aware of CADA services; the many friends of CADA who joined with the membership association which increased significantly during the past year, and who have helped to support the many CADA programs; to Louisiana Gas Service, for the printing it contributed to the agency in helping to replenish its depleted literature supply.

Also to Anheuser-Busch, local New Orleans Branch, for its support of the Holiday thrust in promoting responsible drinking; to RadioOne who sponsored the Save the Holidays commemoration which was conducted in the entire Metropolitan six-Parish area, in making the 1987 Holiday Season a safe and happy one; to the members of the board who helped direct the agency and to the chairpersons of the Finance Committee and Jazz Concert Committee for helping in the self support problems of the agency.

And, to the United Way which has supported the agency through yearly allocations, and a special expression of appreciation to the staff for its dedicated work.

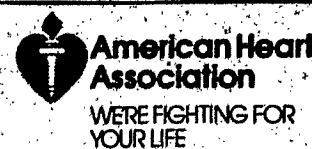

One of the issues of concern addressed in the board discussion was the matter of self support, which the agency has been directed to pursue. CADA has been endeavoring to alter its program orientation to meet the demands for service and the need for funds to meet those needs, and while reporting that it had not reached its goals in this area of need in 1987, it had made some progress.

The staff of the agency includes Ashton Brisolara, executive director; Mrs. Noralee Weber, administrative assistance; Ms. Nellie Santos and Roy Viosca, health educators; and Francis Jacob, media Specialist.

Information and assistance for any problem can be obtained from CADA, by calling its HELP line, 524 H-E-L-P, or if out of area, Toll Free 1-800-228-9711 (wait for tone) then dial 601.

Housing Options for Senior Citizens

By Janet K. Lukens
Coast Consumer Management Center

As they age, it becomes difficult for senior citizens to maintain their independent lifestyles. A home once filled with family can make those left alone feel isolated. Financial hardship can also be a problem due to increasing maintenance costs. Below are some options that may alleviate some of your housing problems:

Consider match-up home sharing. Match-up home sharing places a "home provider" with room to spare in his or her home with a "home seeker" who wants to share a home. With this option, the residents share the space and expenses of one home.

Organize a shared living residence. In a shared living residence, a group of seniors (usually about five to eight) live in a structure specially converted to accommodate them. Residents share chores, household responsibilities, and expenses.

Check on the feasibility of an accessory apartment or separate living quarters in a single-family home. With this option, the senior would live comfortably in the home of a family member or friend, eliminate feelings of isolation, and continue to live independently. Another option is a small, free-standing dwelling placed on the same property as an existing residence.

Consider living in a retirement complex. Retirement complexes are set up to allow the senior citizen to maintain their independence while residing in their own housing unit. The Area Agency on Aging also blockage and will try to make temporary repairs next week. The culvert is one of several being considered for replacement in the next county Beach Road contract, Johnson said. The large lake of water (bottom photo) waits to be drained into the Bay. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Long Beach to receive tree city recognition

Laurel, Biloxi, Tupelo, and Long Beach have been named as Tree City USA's for 1987 in recognition of their efforts to protect and manage the trees in their communities, according to Robert S. "Sid" Moss, State Forester with the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by the National Arbor Day Foundation and is administered through the State Forestry organizations in each state. Communities qualify for the recognition by meeting the standards set forth by the program. These include: a city tree ordinance, a legal tree governing body, a plan of action supported by a budget of $1 per capita, and an official proclamation and observance of Arbor Day.

"Laurel is receiving the recognition for the seventh consecutive year," reported Moss. "Tupelo and Biloxi have qualified for the past 4 years whereas Long Beach is being awarded the honor this year for the first time," he continued. "These cities have met the standards established by the Tree City USA program laying the ground work for a more beautiful, healthful and prosperous community," Moss said.

Cities that qualify for the Tree City USA title receive a flag with the program's logo to fly over their city, a walnut plaque, and Tree City USA community signs to place at entrances to the city.

"We are looking forward to the recognition of many more Tree City USA's in Mississippi," the State Forester explained. Our natural heritage of trees combined with the growth of our urban center and the age of the trees in many of our older communities make it a must that we seriously consider the need for urban tree management.

Special Olympics celebrity golf

The Fifth Annual Special Olympics Celebrity Golf Tournament at the Millbrook Golf and Country Club in Picayune will be held March 26.

The tournament, which is growing in popularity with golfers and celebrities, features the New Orleans Saints, coaches, other NFL players, and television sportscasters.

Tee-time is noon, with a scramble start featuring Saints celebrities. Entry fee of $50 includes a post-tournament barbecue, free beer, and use of golf carts.

Special events will include a long-ball contest, a chipping contest, and closest to hole contest. Trophies are awarded to winning teams.

Proceeds of the fund-raising event are donated to the Special Olympics Fund to finance a Special Olympics Field Day for 450 athletes from Hancock County, Harrison, Pearl River, and Stone counties on April 16 at the National Space Technology Laboratories. Funds are also donated to other Olympic events in Area III.

Mail entry fee and handicap to be received no later than March 23, to Millbrook Golf and Country Club.

P.O. Box 160, Picayune, MS 39466 or phone 601-798-8711.

The tournament is hosted by the four U.S. Navy activities at NSTL, the Picayune Kiwanis Club, and the Millbrook Golf and Country Club.

A bill to allow the Mississippi Public Service Commission to regulate railroad speed limits is in a House committee with a vote expected on Tuesday.

It is important for the public to get behind their representatives to inform them of the importance of this bill, especially along the Gulf Coast.

It is our understanding that Representatives J.P. Compretta, Bob Short and Isiah Fredericks are the only house members along the coast involved in this bill and all three are expressing their support.

Fredericks is the only coast legislator who is a member of the committee working on the bill's final language.

Super Tuesday will be here in a couple of days and we hope everyone will be ready to vote.

Remember, you can only vote for candidates of the same party on Tuesday's primary.

There are a slate of Democratic and Republican candidates for the Super Tuesday primary elections.

There are some very important positions to select in these primaries in addition to a presidential preference.

There are six candidates on the Republican ballot and eight candidates on the Democratic ballot for president.

A total of six Democrats and five Republicans are seeking a primary win to vie for the Fifth District House of Representative seat in November's General Election.

Four candidates are seeking the Democratic nomination for District 2 Supreme Court Southern District 3.

There are three hopefuls seeking the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

Every vote does count and it is hoped everyone qualified election will vote on Tuesday.

Remember, the precincts are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

A sample ballot is on Page 5-A of this issue of The Sea Coast Echo.

Be sure to vote for the candidates of your choice on Tuesday.

We can get by without any rain for a few weeks now.

The heavy rains last Wednesday and Thursday nights in addition to previous downpours has the area very soggy.

I was in the process of getting my ground ready for Spring garden and it will be some time before I can even get to the area, much less use a rotor tiller.

I usually like to get my red potatoes in about mid-February, but it was too wet this year.

One day this week I noted the gnats were pretty busy; guess they will be around for a while now.

That is one of the problems with working in a garden during the Spring time.

The weather will get better in a few weeks.

Report from the Senate

By SEN. GENE TAYLOR

Last week brought the first deadline of the Legislative Session—all bills and proposed constitutional amendments of a general nature had to be introduced by midnight Wednesday. When the deadline passed, more than 1,000 bills and resolutions had been filed in the Senate.

We may continue to introduce bills regarding money whether they appropriate funds or deal with bringing in revenue and "local and private" bills which affect only certain counties or municipalities.

Our time during the coming days will be spent in committees for the most part as we work to meet the next deadline which will kill all general bills not approved by committees.

During the past week, committees took action on several important issues and heard testimony on two controversial and emotional issues.

The Judiciary Committee approved my bill to regulate sports agents who negotiate contracts for athletes with professional teams, while the Finance Committee passed one bill to require that land to be sold for taxes be advertised in alphabetical order by owner and one bill to provide a group health and life insurance plan for retired public employees.

The Judiciary Committee also passed a bill to put into place an insurance risk pool to pay liability claims against the state and local governmental bodies. All state agencies would belong to the state pool, but local governments such as cities, counties, hospitals, and school districts could join a pool run by the state, form their own pool, or purchase commercial insurance.

An Education Subcommittee held a hearing on a proposed pilot program for random drug testing of students whose parents give their written permission. Lieutenant Governor Brad Dye, who formulated the plan, testified that a recent poll showed that more than 80 percent favored the plan.

He noted that a similar program used by the U.S. Navy has been highly successful in reducing drug usage. He said that the intent of the program is not to penalize anyone, but rather to help those using drugs and prevent others from trying drugs. He said that drug abuse among students is a widespread problem which must be addressed and he is willing to listen to any other proposals for solutions.

Dye maintained that the program would not be a violation of constitutional rights because the parents must give their consent, the tests are conducted in private, and the results are confidential and cannot be given to law enforcement officers nor be used in court. Those opposed to the bill said, however, that parents have no right to waive their children's rights. One educator said that schools should not be marshals and that drug education is the solution.

Another controversial hearing dealt with the proposed reorganization of government that would place the schools and services for the blind and deaf with those agencies dealing with rehabilitation. Those against this reorganization asked that the schools for the blind and deaf be placed under the State Department of Education.

Some of the bills which Senate committees will be looking at this week include:

► A bill to establish a pilot program to allow schools which cannot provide advanced math or science courses to use an interactive video computer to give students instruction. Following successful testing and evaluation, these students would receive credit for the courses. The bill is designed to afford equal educational opportunities to students in the smaller schools which cannot afford to operate these classes.

► A bill to require that elections be held only every other year. Statewide, county, and legislative elections would be held during the same year as the presidential election, and municipal and judicial elections would be conducted during the federal off-year elections.

► A bill to develop a statewide litter prevention program.

► A bill to construct a juvenile facility to house aggressive delinquent males who are disruptive to the Youth Services schools at Columbia and Oakley. The facility to be located north of the Jackson area would be designed to handle students who are at risk of running away and committing criminal acts.

► A bill to require Ole Miss and Mississippi State to alternate playing their home games between their campuses and the Veterans Memorial Stadium in Jackson.

► Several bills to help the agriculture and aquaculture industries. One bill would allow them to be included in certain financial assistance programs available to business and industrial prospects. One would allow formation of growers' associations to help farmers obtain loans and credit at a lower rate than is normally obtainable. A third bill is designed to increase opportunities for cultivating and marketing aquaculture products.

► A bill to authorize the court to appoint the Attorney General to act on behalf of children involved in custody suits in which physical or sexual abuse is alleged.

► A bill to provide for a uniform system of education for gifted children.

I value your comments and would be glad to hear from you at any time. You may write to me at the Mississippi State Senate, P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, Mississippi 39205 or call me at 359-3770.

From The Animals

Our mothers' and fathers' masters didn't care for them at all, and because of their heartlessness, we have to take the fall.

Because neither was spayed or neutered, all of us were conceived just so one day, we'd maybe die with no one there to grieve.

Even here in this shelter, as close to a prison that can be, these people try the best they can, so we can all be free.

We're so cute and cuddly, with so much love to share, but because we're not pure-bred, most just stop and stare.

We'd make such good watchdogs, or loving cats to run and play, and all that we are hoping is for you to say O.K.

So that we can have a home, and just a little bit to eat. If this could only happen, boy, it would be so neat.

Oh! Look! Here comes someone, this time could it really be. They do, they say they want us, God bless you all, WOWEE!!!!!!

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

Jackson—An Ocean Springs geneticist has taken on one of the most powerful lobby groups in the state—the junior college presidents—in an attempt to channel more junior college funds to fulltime faculty members.

Dr. Wes Burkhardt, who serves on the State Board for Community and Junior colleges, has launched almost a one-man drive before the Legislature to revise the way junior college funds are spent.

His campaign is to hopefully get faculty salaries of Mississippi junior colleges up to the average of the Southeastern states, a goal he says is reachable within available funds if they are properly allocated.

Burkhardt maintains that if the money already going to the 15 junior colleges had been used on a uniform standard for student-faculty and faculty-executive ratios, full-time faculty salaries would already be approximately at the regional average.

Instead, junior college faculty salaries in Mississippi now average about $22,000, or around 80 per cent of the Southeast average of $28,244. Mississippi salaries are the lowest in the region.

By Burkhardt's calculations, average salaries of fulltime faculty members at Mississippi junior colleges range from a high of $26,550 at Gulf Coast down to $15,900 at East Central and $17,789 at East Mississippi.

Conversely, his figures reveal, the lowest paid faculty members are generally at junior colleges which have the largest amount of funds per student to operate on.

East Mississippi, for instance, receives $3,181 per student, as compared with $2,605 at Jones, but the average academic faculty is $7,500 lower at East Mississippi than Jones.

These variations, Burkhardt contends, will continue to exist as long as the expenditure of state funds for junior colleges in Mississippi is left largely to the discretion of individual junior college presidents.

"It's a matter of management philosophy and each institution sets its own policy," says the 45-year-old Burkhardt, who formerly taught at the University of Southern Mississippi Natchez branch and was a member of the board of trustees of Copiah-Lincoln Junior College, Wesson.

Burkhardt, who now has a private practice at Ocean Springs and is a civilian employee of Keesler Air Force Base, was one of the original appointees to the Board for Community and Junior Colleges appointed last year under a 1986 law.

When the new board was created with approval of the junior college presidents, it was given little power and, in particular, no control over how many faculty, administrative or other staff personnel can be hired by the college presidents.

Burkhardt's calculations emphasize the wide variation within the system on how the individual institutions utilize their funds, as between faculty and other personnel.

For example, the percentage of fulltime faculty salaries compared to the total salaries at individual institutions ranges from a low of 39 percent at Coahoma to a high of 50.3 percent at Mississippi Delta, according to Burkhardt's figures.

The percentage of the total budget which salaries represent at each institution ranges from 49.5 per cent at Coahoma to 80.6 percent at Mississippi Gulf Coast.

The ratio of executive positions to fulltime faculty ranges from one to every 4.2 faculty members at Coahoma to one to every 18.2 faculty members at Meridian.

An optimum ratio, Burkhardt maintains, is one executive per 10 faculty members. But his figures show that 13 of the 15 junior colleges in Mississippi have a higher ratio of executives than that.

Burkhardt is urging the House and Senate Appropriations committees to earmark how much of the funds in the junior college appropriation must go to full-time faculty members in order to take away the flexibility of presidents to spend the money as they choose.

He is also advocating giving the state board power to regulate the number of positions that will be funded at each junior college.

"If we continue to do things the way we've done them, we're not going to be any better off than we are. We'll always be last in the Southeast in faculty salaries," Burkhardt said.

(Post Script: In a recent column this writer referred to a 1968 Legislative Investigating committee report having shown that then Southern District Highway Commissioner W.H. "Shag" Pyron had funneled an inordinate amount of Highway Department insurance through the insurance agency then owned by present Highway Commissioner Bob Joiner. The investigative report revealed a letter signed by Pyron and then Northern District Highway commissioner Herschel Jumper which sought to make Joiner one of two exclusive agents on certain insurance for the Highway Department. The letter was subsequently withdrawn as a result of the investigation.

Joiner has informed this column that he wrote no Highway Department insurance during Pyron's tenure or at any other time. I accept his statement and regret implying that he did.)

Gentlemen:

So the Port and Harbor must move to accommodate Hwy. 603.

The cry if for more space for County offices.

The old hospital was suggested—and dismissed with laughter and the remark, it leaks!" So what! The new library leaked, the new jail leaked, my apartment leaks. All flat roofs here leak.

It would be cheaper for the tax-

Why not?

Dealer reports Chevrolet February sales figures

Chevrolet reports its Corsica/Beretta is the best-selling domestic car line in the United States in February with sales the highest for any month since the introduction of the two-door and four-door models, according to Mike Witte, Bay St. Louis Chevrolet dealer.

Corsica/Beretta was Chevrolet's top-selling line in February with deliveries of 39,598 units, the highest for any month since the mid-March 1987 introduction of the models, surpassing the previous sales record set in September 1987 of 31,548 units.

The final 10-day sales totaled 14,709 units, an almost 29 percent increase over the previous month's figures for the same period.

Nova sales for the month were the highest of the model year with sales of 15,434 units. In the final 10-day period, Nova sales totaled 5,653 units, with a daily rate of 793 for the period, Witte noted.

Truck sales set a Chevrolet record for the month of February with sales of 118,588 units. Chevrolet's new '88 full-size C/K pickup—16,526 for the period—reflects the best selling period since their April 1987 introduction with 37,835 deliveries in February.

The Corsica/Beretta car line continues to receive recognition—the latest from Automundo Magazine, naming Beretta their "1988 Car of The Year," while Corsica was recently awarded Family Circle Magazine's "Family Car of The Year" for families with young children.

Total passenger car sales for Chevrolet were 143,298 for the month, the highest February sales volume since 1980.

Total vehicle sales for the period were 261,886, up 19.7 percent from a year ago for the sale period, Witte added.

State peach producers find success

By Patti Drapala
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Peach growers in Georgia and the Carolinas may have cornered the big peach markets, but they haven't made a dent in the one created by Mississippi growers.

Mississippians have made a success story out of selling at the roadside stand, said Dr. Freddie Rasberry, a horticulturist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

The 200 peach growers in the magnolia-state don't produce enough volume to compete with their southern neighbors. The average grower in Mississippi has between 5 and 10 acres of peach orchards, and those acres supplement income generated from major vegetable and feed crops.

Not one peach orchard in South Carolina is less than 200 acres. With that kind of volume, those growers can set the pace in the wholesale market.

"Peaches are a fresh fruit and without a marketing option like Georgia and both Carolinas have, it's hard for the average grower in Mississippi to hold the fruit until it gets to market," Rasberry said. "Our best opportunities are in the roadside stands."

Mississippi growers are gradually planting more peaches and they may someday have the acreage to enter wholesale markets. They are limited by their processing facilities. Very few of them have the ability to pick, clean, process, package and ship.

"Most of our growers have a little land, want the additional income, and the roadside stand is perfect for them," Rasberry said. "A wholesale market is a family living; managing just a 20-acre peach orchard is a full-time job in itself."

Mississippi growers can make from $18 to $20 a bushel at the roadside stand. They can offer buyers a better, fresher peach than out-of-state peaches in grocery stores. Consumers also pay less for a roadside stand peach than for one in the store.

Mississippi peaches sell for about 50 cents a pound at roadside; Georgia and Carolina peaches sell for about 99 cents a pound in the grocery store.

"We've got a dedicated group of peach growers in Mississippi," Rasberry said. "They keep on, despite the weather problems and late freezes we've had, and their dedication shows their love for the crop we have."

Roadside selling has been so successful for Mississippi peach growers that it has led to the demise of "Pick your own" orchards. "Pick your own" was never popular in the state because consumers could always find good quality peaches at roadside.

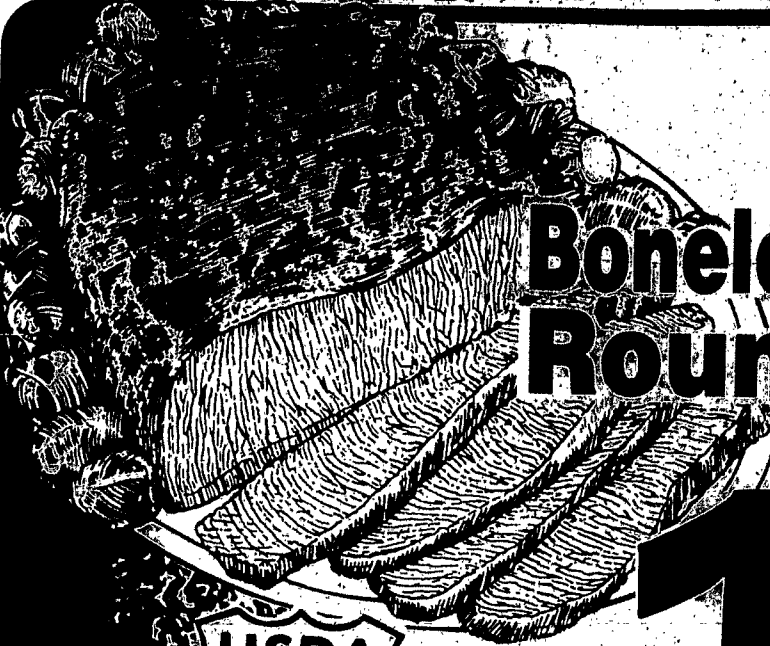

"The story we want to tell is that peaches offer a person an additional income," Rasberry said. "Nobody is going to quit growing soybeans and start growing peaches. They can continue to grow soybeans and put in a few acres of peaches."

CANDIDATE VISITS—Senatorial candidate Wayne Dowdy visits NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories Friday during a campaign tour of Hancock County. Dowdy visits NSTL on campaign tour

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
National Space Technology Laboratories is involved in activities to help the United States space program "catch up" with Russia, according to Congressman Wayne Dowdy.

"Now, in 1988 the United States is in about the same position it was in the late 60's when Russia was ahead in the space program having launched Sputnik," he said.

The President and Congress had to take "very bold steps" then so the United States could catchup, Dowdy said.

"And we need to take bold steps again now," he added.

Activities at NSTL, including the testing of all space shuttle engines, is a part of the program this country needs to get a space station built, he continued.

Dowdy conducted an official visit

Thursday of NSTL, including touring facilities and meeting with Army officials at Mason Chamberlain Army Ammunition Plant and Navy officials at the Naval Oceanographic Command.

"I am very impressed by the activities in progress at NSTL and recognize the tremendous value the federal investment at this facility has on surrounding counties including Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River," he said.

the bill.

The need for the bill originated when Chesapeake Seaboard Rail Transportation, Inc. also known as CSX, filed a lawsuit against several Gulf Coast municipalities asking for a speed limit of 55 m.p.h. to 65 m.p.h., depending on the type of freight a train happened to be hauling.

One of the defendants in the case was the City of Waveland, which had refused to repeal a local ordinance limiting trains to 35 m.p.h. through the city limits.

Waveland later settled for a 45 m.p.h. speed limit, currently being self-enforced by the railroad for one year with the city to be given 90 days' prior notice in the event of any change.

Marquar said he is concerned because Fredericks, the committee chairman, is the only member of the committee openly supporting the speed regulations.

The bill is dead if it can not be gotten out of committee by Thursday, the union representative added.

Marquar said at least four committee members are openly opposed to the bill.

"We need as much public support as possible between now and Tuesday," he explained.

He said he feels that the committee members other than Fredericks probably can not see the ramifications that a train derailment or similar accident could cause for a coastal city.

"The public will wait until a school blows up and then blame their representatives, but they can't blame Short and Compretta."

He asked that people concerned about the issue call the state capitol at 359-3770 to send messages to the committee members, who include Frank Ely, Don Underwood, Mike Nipper, Billy D. Lancaster, Edward G. Jackson, J.B. Van Slyke, Miriam Simpson, Carl Parker and Fredericks. Messages should specify House Bill No. 29.

For the weight conscious.

Modify behavior for diet success

By Melissa Mixon
Human Nutrition Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

America is a weight conscious nation. As we become aware of the benefits of diet and exercise on overall health, more Americans are trying to incorporate physical fitness and weight control into their daily lives.

Unfortunately, many times weight control or exercise programs are begun with a great deal of enthusiasm, but in a very few weeks the enthusiasm begins to fade.

Sensible eating along with regular exercise is the basis for a successful weight loss program, but this success can only be achieved by permanently changing behavior. By taking part in a behavior modification program designed to change behavior or habits, individuals become more aware of the things in the environment that trigger improper eating or prevent the success of an exercise program.

A behavior modification program will also help individuals set goals to change these behaviors and incorporate positive reinforcement into their lifestyle when the weight control or fitness program is a success.

Awareness is the first step in changing eating habits. Individuals should begin by keeping a record for several days of everything that is eaten. Include where the food is eaten (in front of the television, at the dining room table, etc.) and the circumstances that occurred while eating.

More overweight people tend to eat in a wide variety of places in the home. Through repeated associations with food, these places become environmental cues for eating. For a weight control program to be a success, it is necessary to associate eating, including snacking, with only one particular place in the home. Restrict eating in the home to one place such as the dining room table. Do not do anything else while eating such as watching television or reading a book.

Emotional stress such as boredom, depression, fear, anxiety and unhappiness all serve as environmental cues to eat. Keeping a record of moods or emotions at the time of eating can help individuals become more aware of the influence of different moods on eating habits.

Once the influence is identified, make a list of projects or activities that can be substituted for eating. This may include bicycling, jogging, taking a walk, phoning a friend, writing a letter or many others. The next time an emotional cue to eat occurs, substitute one of the activities on the list.

Goals are an important part of a behavior modification program. Set realistic goals. Include both short term and long term goals. The short term goal may be related to weight loss alone or it can focus on weight loss and behavior change. If the long term goal is to lose 25 pounds and exercise for 30 minutes three times per week, a realistic short term goal would be to lose 1 pound and to use the stairs instead of the elevator. Once a short term goal is achieved, a reward is in line.

A reward system is an important part of a behavior modification program. Food meets emotional needs as well as physical needs. So when food is reduced or eating habits change, it becomes necessary to find other positive, meaningful substitutes or rewards to take the place of the food. Plan the reward to give immediate feedback.

Neck strain from poor posture, or from an accident of some kind, can result in a variety of shoulder, arm or hand problems, with accompanying pain. The cause is often an irritation or "pinching" of the large nerves in the neck as they leave the spine and extend into the extremities. An understanding of these conditions can help you avoid problems and suffering.

Clubs, Auxiliaries

Veterans of World War I Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, World War I No. 2537 was held Feb. 25 at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis at 3 p.m. The meeting was called to order by President Lois Fallo, opening prayer by Chaplain Kathy Adam, followed by Pledge of Allegiance.

A letter of appreciation from J. P. Smith, chief, Voluntary Service VA Medical Center, Gulfport/Biloxi was read, thanking the ladies auxiliary volunteers for donations, gifts and the sincere interest shown the veterans. Auxiliary member Gen. v. e. Cole is the VAVS representative.

General Orders Number 4, 5 and 6 from Auxiliary National President Helen Arnold were read and discussed.

Legislation has been introduced into Congress to provide a service pension for Veterans of World War I; also a pension for certain surviving spouses of such veterans.

With the election of auxiliary officers taking place at the March meeting, a general discussion followed concerning nominations. All eligible members are invited to join the auxiliary; life memberships being offered. Next meeting is March 24.

Gulf Coast Newcomers Club

On Mar. 8 the Gulf Coast Newcomers Club will have its monthly noon meeting at Best Western Motel on Highway 90 in Gulfport. Margaret Hanson, retiring president, will install president Lois Boren of Biloxi. Each retiring officer will install her successor.

Incoming officers are: First Vice President - Chris Blodgett, Biloxi; Second Vice President - Fran Lee, Gulfport; Recording Secretary - Cheryl Grenfield, Biloxi; Corresponding Secretary - Jo Stanford, Gulfport and Treasurer - Sara Chadwick, Long Beach.

Completing Mrs. Boren's board will be: Historian - Ruth Davis, Biloxi; Club Advisor - Margaret Hanson, Gulfport; Hospitality - Bea Schexnayder, Biloxi; Social - Bettie Kendall, Gulfport; Crafts - Gladys Hansen, Biloxi; Bridge Chairman - Phyllis Cuning, Biloxi; Community Service - Helen Davis, Pass Christian; Club Newspaper - Anna Clare Topmiller, Biloxi; Telephone Chairman - Iva Loy Tolar, Pass Christian and Ways & Means - Margaret Justice, Ocean Springs.

A Friendship Hour will precede the luncheon. Final plans for the March 12th Wine and Cheese Party will be made during the business session.

Any woman who has moved to the Gulf Coast in the last three years is eligible for membership in the club. For further information call Margaret Hanson, 832-8771, or Gunay Ali, 868-3058.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 hosted an "ice-cream and cake party" in conjunction with the regular monthly picnic for the veterans in the recreation hall at the VA hospital in Gulfport on Wednesday, Feb. 17.

Volunteers who participated were Mmes. Hazel Wohlschlegel, VACS chairlady, Phyllis Moran, Rose Jaquillard and Mamie Carver; Messrs. Roland Wohlschlegel and Horace Ruhr.

There were 150 veterans present at this activity and a good time was had by all. Musicians from the Bay St. Louis area entertained the veterans and they were delighted with the music.

The regular monthly party was hosted by the unit on Thursday, Feb. 25, at the Hotel Reed Nursing and Retirement home for the residents who celebrated their birthdays during the month.

Mrs. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano, as Mmes. Roslyn Weathers led the singing and Oris Planchard and Hazel Wohlschlegel encouraged the residents to join in the activity. As the ladies sang 'Happy Birthday' they handed out the birthday gifts. Refreshments were served.

Homemakers Council

Monthly meeting of Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council was held Feb. 24 at Extension Office on Dunbar Street. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Norma Haas, president. Pledge of Allegiance was recited and inspirational given by Mrs. Edna Harrington, Diamondhead Club member.

The minutes were read by Mrs. Wanda Berthelot, secretary. The new business discussed was suggestions on handling council monies, proposed by-law changes, and a letter from Senator Margaret "Wootsie" Tate was read. Also plans to help "Make A Wish Foundation" were presented. The "Rabbit" wall plaque, hand-crafted by Mrs. Toodlum Byro and raffled, was won by Ms. Clyde Richardson from Riverview Club.

The council meeting was preceded by leadership training program; topic: "Networking and Communication," presented by Mrs. Haas. Diamondhead Club hosted this event.

Next meeting will be at the Extension Office on March 23. For more information on joining homemaker clubs call 467-5456.

Professional Secretaries International

The Gulf Coast Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will meet Tuesday, Mar. 1 at 6 p.m. at the Mississippi Power District Office, 333 Washington Loop, Biloxi.

Joe Truhett, health program coordinator at Mississippi Power Company, will present a "Wellness Program."

Truhett is a graduate of Mississippi State University and Auburn University and was a doctor of veterinary medicine for seven years before joining Mississippi Power Company's Health Program Coordinator three years ago.

Secretaries interested in the Professional Secretaries International organization can contact Sharon Lowery at 865-5993/832-6963 or Lee Bass at 374-0404/872-1096. Meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month in the Mississippi Power Company Biloxi District Office auditorium at 6 p.m.

Blue Jeans Garden Club News

Members of the Blue Jeans Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Sidney Coogan last Thursday for their regular February meeting and luncheon.

President Mrs. Edward J. Feahney, presiding over the brief business meeting, introduced a guest, Mrs. Lucille Witter, to the members in attendance.

Several important issues were discussed with decisions approved by the group.

After completion of all business matters Mrs. Coogan closed the Meeting with a prayer, Blessed Peace, author unknown.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Coogan for the luncheon and social following the meeting were Mesdames Feahney, George Heitzman and Talmadge Conway.

Mrs. A.M. Thomas was winner of the Half and Half.

The club's next business is scheduled for Thursday, March 17.

Diamondhead Garden Club

The Diamondhead Garden Club met Feb. 17 at the Diamondhead Community Center. The meeting was called to order by President Betty Claggett.

Mary Cassis, our Arbor Day chairman, reported on the program held at Beauvoir that she attended. Also, in honor of Arbor Day, a Japanese Magnolia was planted in the median strip at the entrance of the Community Center.

Anne Neff announced three fun events in the near future. A cruise on the Cajun Queen in March, a Flower Design Workshop, also in March and a trip into the Honey Island Swamp in April.

The Garden of the month award went to Mary and Suly Kahn. The fairway favorite was Jan and Tom Venator and the Veggie of the month went to Tom Ballard.

Our gardening tips for the month of February were given by Lorraine Paillet. This is prune and plant month.

Our program for the day was presented by Mrs. Joseph Finley, a past president of the Diamondhead Garden Club and longtime Diamondhead resident. Her program, titled "Herbs and Cordials: Gifts from the Past" was fascinating. She discussed the history of most of the commonly used herbs and spices. Mrs. Finley shared her recipes for homemade liqueurs and cordials, and shared some samples.

SECOND BIRTHDAY— Chassity Lynn Seals, daughter of Bobby and Lynn (Lee) Seals of Leetown, celebrated her second birthday on January 31. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Necaise of Leetown, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee of Poplarville and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Seals of Leetown. She is the great-granddaughter of Mr. Avnel J. Cuevas Sr. of Kiln and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Lee of Leetown.

SECOND BIRTHDAY—P Samuel James Necaise, son of Neal and Gloria (Lee) Necaise Jr. of Kiln, celebrated his second birthday on December 19. He is the grandson of Fairley and Betty Necaise of Kiln, Carl and Janice (Lee) Berry of Leetown and James and Wanda Lee of Texas. He is the great-grandson of Lucy Necaise of Kiln, Jessie Lee of Leetown and Oren and Lista Lee of Florida.

The first trial scheduled is that of Reggie M. Barrios, accused of murder.

ETV Brief

LERNER AND LOWE

By George, ETV's got it! The romantic fantasies of Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe will be presented when "Lerner and Loewe: Broadway's Last Romantics" airs at 9 p.m., Tuesday, Mar. 8.

Their show stopping music and dance performances made the unlikely duo the toast of the "Great White Way." Co-hosted by Audrey Hepburn and Richard Kiley, the 70-minute special features film clips from all the Lerner and Loewe films, rare television footage of many of the original Broadway casts and interviews with the stars who brought their work to life including Rex Harrison, Julie Andrews and Richard Burton.

Viewers will relive the romance in scenes from "Brigadoon," "Paint Your Wagon," "My Fair Lady," "Camelot," "Gigi" and "The Little Prince" in "Lerner and Loewe: Broadway's Last Romantics" on ETV.

SCOWI's eighth carnival ball extends an "Aloha to Hawaii"

Aloha, a greeting from the Krewe of SCOWI, welcomed all visitors to the luau, as traditionally done in the beautiful Hawaiian Islands, which highlighted the ball held in Waveland at the American Legion Hall on Jan. 30.

According to Mardi Gras Tradition, the King and Queen of 1967, Mrs. Helen Rotherham and Dr. Bruno Mancuso, were presented, recalling the theme of their reign, "The Glorious Golden West."

Reigning as king and queen of the evening's festivities were William Rotherham and Joan Wilkinson, the 1968 monarchs of SCOWI.

Lovely Queen Jean chose an authentic wedding gown of gold lame with a graceful, ruffled train for her journey to the beautiful Hawaiian Islands for an enchanting Luau. Her crown encrusted with crystal rhinestones with matching scepter completed her royal attire.

Handsome King William Rotherham wore a formal white tuxedo with a gold lame vest to match the queen's gorgeous gown. An ornate rhinestone crown and scepter matching the queen's completed his attire.

The Krewe saluted the audience representing many phases of Hawaiian culture and music. Included in the merriment were: Dorothy and Carl Beilstein, Dorothy Bessey, Lillie Burke, Gladys Cole, Louis and Mary Dauenhauer, Carolyn Ducros, Les Gavlin, Marie and Toxie Hall, Charlotte and Donald Mauffrey, Dolores Ouder, Velma Schmitt, Una South, June Strong, Edna Vasalli, Andrew Voelker, Buddy and Shirley Williams, and Muriel Zinc.

Each visitor from across the sea brings with him a bit of Chief Hawaii Loa, his culture, his life, his dreams from long ago. He set sail from Tahiti and founded a family of islands, the largest, he named for himself. He brought pineapple from Latin America, mynah birds from India, doves from China, and ukeleles from Portugal.

Bringing all his dreams and ours together for the scrumptious Luau as Captain Mary Callier attired in a gorgeous black sheath gown with a graceful train. Her head piece was adorned with colorful Hawaiian flowers.

Music to Aloha Oe, Song of the Islands, the Captain gathered the Malahinis from the little islands to the big island of Hawaii for a delightful and appetizing Luau.

A Hawaiian war chant greeted the officers of SCOWI, all attired in ancient Hawaiian garb.

To the music of "My Little Grass Shack, Mrs. Eunice Revere escorted by Dr. William Ahrens were gracefully welcomed from the smallest island, Niihau, with its sun-beaten slopes, white foams curling wistfully around black rocks and waves that sigh tiredly on trackless sand.

From Honolulu, Oahu, The gathering place; arrived Mrs. Mayola Rotherham, escorted by Mr. George Holliday to the strains of "On the Beach of Waikiki" with its many cultures mingled into a memorable melange of sights, sounds and flavors. Here East meets West in an impromptu potpourri of scones, egg-rolls, tapa cloth and Irish linen, ten-gallon Stetsons, tightly-woven turbans, kotos and banjos.

From the Valley Isle, Maui, we welcomed Mrs. Ruby Thomas, escorted by Mr. Richard Bessey to the melody of "Ball-hai." This beautiful Isle seems garlanded with leis, the wind is laden with ginger, jasmine and plumeria. Wild orchids wreath the shore and frigate birds skim the sea. Waterfalls cascade in mirrored ponds in dream-like glades, each gleamingly more beautiful than the last.

QUEEN JOAN WILKINSON, KING WILLIAM ROTHERHAM

stim the sea. Waterfalls cascade in mirrored ponds in dream-like glades, each gleamingly more beautiful than the last.

Molokai, beginning of a beautiful friendship. Mrs. Lorena Scarborough escorted by Mr. Jerry Cole were greeted from this friendly Isle to the tune of "Now It's the Hour." Father Damien dedicated his life to the care of the leper colony. His statue stands near the church he built in 1874. The Makahala peninsula's temples date back to the 13th century and are considered the best in all the islands.

To the tune of "Blue Hawaii," from Hawaii, the gentle giant, we saluted Mrs. Eleanor Marsh, escorted by Mr. Joseph Seibert. The Big Island embraces many contrasts in volcanic fire and perpetual snow, and clothed in misty rain forests, distinguished by moonscapes of desolation and beaches golden with sun. One discovers Hilo and Kona and brittle barrens on Mauna Kea's lava flows.

From Kauai, "nature" at its loveliest, one heard the melody of "Red Sails in the Sunset," which greeted Mrs. Gail Arnold, escorted by Mr. Carlos Arnold. A polished silver, delicately carved fish-hook catches and eye amid gray volcanic rubble. Perhaps during Prince Lohiau's time, 500 years ago, some fisherman's fish-hook was lost in the abandoned fishing village along the coast of Kauai.

After meeting our honored guests, we welcomed royal majesties of SCOWI 1968, King and Queen.

King of SCOWI, Mr. William Rotherham, was presented to the audience to the music of "Aloha Oe." Mrs. Carolyn Bessey escorted by Mr. Richard Bessey.

Communication, not magic is key to romance

The recipe for a perfect relationship calls for just the right amount of romance, right? Although romance is an important factor in a primary love-bonded relationship, there are no specific rules as to the manner in which romance may be expressed or just how much is the right amount.

The expression of romance is as individualized as those involved in the relationship itself. According to K. Bradley Frost, PhD, AASECT Certified Sex Therapist, romance is simply put, "an odd creature." The common denominator that does exist, however, is communication, he pointed out.

Dr. Frost earned his PhD in psychology at the University of Georgia. He was also chosen as one of the first of four trainees in a newly-developed six-month post-doctoral clinical training program at the Masters and Johnson Institute in sex therapy. His past experience includes working with a variety of psychological problems including anxiety, depression, child and family discord, marital/sexual distress and substance abuse.

"There are no firm rules when you're dealing with romance. Romance changes," Frost explained. Problems tend to surface when those in a relationship stop talking about their wants and needs and resort to expectations that their partners are capable of mind-reading. "We have different expectations of the way things are 'supposed' to be."

Depending on another person for happiness is another major relationship pitfall. Frost stressed this point, stating, "You're responsible for creating your own happiness."

Frost further noted that there is a definite link between romance and sex. "Sex without romance won't last long," he told a group of more than 125 North Lake residents gathered at the Sports Medicine and Fitness Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center recently for the Regional Women's Center sponsored "More Romance, Better Sex, Part II" presentation.

"Observe the way she acts to, for and with you," said Frost. "Reach inside the basic emotional core inside that person. There's a lot to be had and a lot to be done. It doesn't take magic. It takes communication."

EIGHTH BIRTHDAY—Michael W. Prendergast, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Prendergast Sr. celebrated his eighth birthday January 26 at Twin Pines Skating Rink. He is the grandson of Patricia Verdon of Bay St. Louis, Ronald Verdon Sr. of Kenner, La.; and Madeline Prendergast of Bay St. Louis. His great-grandparents are Mrs. Claire May of New Orleans, Mrs. Inez Campbell of Kenner, Ivory Klotz of Bay St. Louis and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Prendergast of New Orleans.

They call this man a leader.
We'll be proud to call him Congressman.

He's Glenn White, and in four years as D.A. he's done more for South Mississippi than most men do in a lifetime. The Metro Narcotics Task Force he started in Hattiesburg is curbing the flow of drugs that were killing our kids. The Rape Crisis Center he helped found is helping victims put their lives back together again. And his child abuse task force is the one other D.A.s are using as a model, to help abused kids all over our state.

Now, there's an even bigger job to be done in Washington. And a lot of folks in South Mississippi think Glenn White is just the man to do it. They know he'll fight for the higher-paying jobs we need. And the better schools our kids need. And they know Glenn will see to it that our national defense remains as strong as the people who built it. They call this man a leader. We'll be proud to call him Congressman.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Until 1931, the United States of America did not have an official National Anthem. Many different songs were played during official functions. Songs such as Hail Columbia, My Country 'Tis of Thee and even Yankee Doodle were sometimes used.

Many Americans felt that something had to be done about this shameful situation, so a search for a National Anthem began. Many versions of existing patriotic songs and some new ones were suggested as possible anthems. Each backed by a different faction.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars backed the adoption of a patriotic poem, set to music, that had its origins in the War of 1812. The poem, written in September 1814 by Francis Scott Key was, of course, the Star Spangled Banner. And, on March 3, 1931, some 56 years ago, the Congress of the United States unanimously adopted the Star Spangled Banner as our National Anthem.

In an attempt to preserve the history and traditions of our country, this historic fact was brought to you by Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts 3253 and 4808 and their Ladies Auxiliaries and the Americanism Department of VFW's national and state organizations.

The Theodore S. Price Post and Auxiliary 3253 Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor a 'Drive to Survive School of Instructions' on Saturday, March 12 at the Post Home, 343 Third Street, Bay St. Louis at 11 a.m.

The public is invited to the program which is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the United States National Safety. The Theodore S. Price Post and Auxiliary 3253 Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor a 'Drive to Survive School of Instructions' on Saturday, March 12 at the Post Home, 343 Third Street, Bay St. Louis at 11 a.m.

The public is invited to the program which is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the United States National Safety Program.

A film will be shown on safe driving. All attending the course will receive a certificate.

Harris Boudreaux is safety chairman for the post. Barbara Kingston and Mattie North will be instructors from the auxiliary.

Earl Salaun, post commander, and Lucille Boudreaux, auxiliary president, will also help with the course. We hope all the post and auxiliary members and the public will attend.

Bayou Cadet Post and Auxiliary 4808 Ansley and all post and auxiliary members are also asked to attend.

Harold and Myra Spiess are post commander and auxiliary president, respectively.

The council of administration meeting will be in Jackson on March 26-27 at the Metro Ramada Inn.

The Ladies Council meeting will be on Saturday, March 26, 4 p.m. and the school of instruction will be on Sunday March 27 at 9 a.m.

The department chairmen will be promoting their respective programs at that time. Chuck Royce, department commander, and Florence Bennett, department president, will be in charge of the business sessions.

Earl Salaun and Lucille Boudreaux will attend from the post and auxiliary.

Harris Boudreaux, past post commander; H. B. Lewis, past adjutant and quartermaster; Jean Lewis, auxiliary treasurer and page to senior vice president Lee Milton will also attend.

Boudreaux is also PAC chairman for the Department of Mississippi, and she urges all voters to get out and vote on March 8 and put candidates in Congress who believe in a strong defense and veterans entitlements.

The District I Convention will be Apr. 30 and May 1 at the Holiday Inn, Gulfport, Hwy. 49. Jim Underhill, District I commander, and Dorothy Merrill, District I president, will be in charge of the business sessions.

H. B. Lewis and Bertie Walker from Post and Auxiliary No. 3253 will be seeking the office of commander and president.

The next auxiliary meeting will be on Wednesday, March 9 at the Post Home at 7:30 p.m.

The next meeting of the post will be Thursday March 17 at 8 p.m. at the Post Home.

Hancock Medical Center Auxiliary

Life Call, the emergency call system sponsored by the auxiliary is gaining momentum. We thank Nan Ehrbright for helping to spread the information about the call system. Her article was clear and concise. It gave good reasons why the elderly and mobility limited persons could rely on getting immediate help in any emergency.

We thank Evergreen Nursery for the magazine subscriptions to stock our book and magazine cart at the hospital.

Lena Platz and Selma George have made the many cheery holiday favors they distributed to patients. We express appreciation for the many hours they spent constructing these joy-bringers.

A little bit of Mardi Gras was brought to the hospital patients by Clara Arnold dressed as a clown and Genevieve Cole. They visited and distributed beads to the patients.

Members of the auxiliary were involved in the cholesterol testing programs. They registered patients and assisted them to the testing laboratory. After blood samples were taken juice and cookies were offered. It was a job well done and appreciated.

The auxiliary reminds you that more information about the Life Call system can be obtained by calling Edna Kleinpeter at 467-7976.

Columnist, poet spends winter months with Heibels

From Nunica, Mich., and spending the winter months with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D. Heibel of Bear Run Manor, Pass Christian, is Mrs. Marie Heibel, mother of 12 children.

A columnist for her local newspaper 'The Fruit Port News,' Heibel has also published many historical booklets on the life and settlement of the people in her area. Her many published poems touch the human side of life and captures the spiritual beauty in nature.

Mrs. Heibel was the guest of the City of Waveland for the Nereids parade, her first Mardi Gras.

"Southern Hospitality" is a phrase heard frequently in the North," Mamie states. "When you experience it, the full meaning of warmth, new friendships and a quiescent way of life becomes a reality." Just recently Mamie celebrated her 80th birthday.

Dear Friend and Fellow Mississippian:

I served in state government for many years and I know how important it is to have a working relationship with our Federal Representatives.

For that reason, I am very pleased to recommend Congressman Wayne Dowdy as our next United States Senator.

Congressman Dowdy is a fine public servant who has represented his district honorably and effectively during this decade. This experience will make him especially effective in the Senate.

He is attuned to the needs and problems facing retirees. He has been with us 100% of the time on issues in Congress.

More than that, he is a man who wants our views and our input on these important matters. He has never lost touch with the people who sent him to Washington.

We are very fortunate to have this fine man offering for this important office. I urge you to support Wayne Dowdy as our next United States Senator.

Sincerely

Heber Ladner

Crouch announces candidacy for Supreme Court Judge

John H. Crouch of Long Beach has formally announced his candidacy for Supreme Court Judge from the Southern Judicial District.

A Republican, he is unopposed in the Mar. 8 primary, but will confront in November the winner of the Democratic primary.

Crouch, 47, has practiced law continuously since receiving his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Mississippi Law School in 1975.

He is admitted to practice in all Mississippi state and federal courts, the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States Supreme Court.

He initially practiced law in Jackson until July, 1979.

Since then, he has been division counsel at Paceo, Inc., a subsidiary of Freuhauf Corporation.

Paceo, Inc., a Gulfport-based manufacturer of large container-handling cranes and custom heavy equipment, sells its products in both domestic and world markets.

In addition to representing Paceo in in-state legal matters, he also directs the activities of attorneys representing Paceo in other states and in foreign countries. In parallel roles, he also serves Paceo as Director of Special Projects and as General Manager - Marine Equipment.

Crouch received a bachelor of aeronautical engineering degree from Georgia Tech in 1961 and a master of science in aeronautical engineering from the University of Washington in 1963.

He has been a registered professional engineer in Alabama since 1968, prior to attending law school. Crouch was employed by The Boeing Company from 1962 until August, 1973 on the Minuteman Intercontinental Ballistic Missile program and on the Apollo and Skylab Projects.

On the latter two projects, he was personally responsible for numerous mission and trajectory analyses and flight-support activities which directly contributed to the space program successes achieved by the United States in both projects.

While in law school, Crouch served as editor-in-chief of the Journal of Space Law, staff member of the Mississippi Law Journal, and president of the University of Mississippi chapter of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

Crouch presently serves as president of the Long Beach School District Board of Trustees and as a commissioner of the Long Beach Water Management District.

He has also been active in coaching youth softball and baseball for a number of years.

Crouch is a native of Greenville. In addition to Greenville, Jackson, and Long Beach, he has also lived in Magnolia, Oxford, and Eupora, plus a number of locations outside of Mississippi.

He and his wife, the former Ann Durham-Shearer of West Wickham, Kent, England, are members of the First United Methodist Church in Long Beach.

They have three children. Their daughter, Mrs. Karen Croch Ross, 22, is a recent graduate of Mississippi State University and now resides in Starkville.

Their oldest son, John IV, 20, is a junior at Rice University in Houston, Texas. Their youngest son, James, 15, is a sophomore at Long Beach High School.

He weighed 6 pounds, 12 ounces.

Mrs. Slowey is the former Cheryl Ann Lightell.

Maternal grandparents are Martha Moore and Felix Lightell of Waveland. Paternal grandparents are Joy Izagurrie and Gerald W. Slowey of New Orleans.

WHITNEY LEIGH SELLIER

Craig and Connie Sellier of Bay St. Louis announce the birth of their second child, Whitney Leigh, at Slidell Memorial Hospital in Slidell, La. She was born February 15, 1988 at 12:47 p.m.

She weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces.

Mrs. Sellier is the former Connie Bernos.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bernos of Bay St. Louis. Maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Musser of Bay St. Louis.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kent Sellier of Clermont Harbor. Paternal great-grandfather is Frank Klein Sr. of Clermont Harbor. Great-grandmother is Elzie T. Sellier of Bay St. Louis.

Welcoming Whitney is her sister, Brandy.

Mississippi rice 'blasted'

A disease called "blast" is taking its toll on the Mississippi rice crop. This has prompted a call for help from rice producers to the state's congressional delegation in getting an emergency use permit granted for a product that has proven effective in control of the disease in other rice producing areas of the world.

Travis Satterfield, a Bolivar County rice producer and chairman of the Mississippi Farm Bureau's Rice Advisory Committee, has appealed to the Mississippi congressional delegation for help in getting the product Beam granted an emergency use permit by the Environmental Protection Agency for the 1988 crop season.

Satterfield, in a letter to the lawmakers, said, "Rice producers in Bolivar County alone lost an estimated eight million dollars in yield and milling quality on the 1987 crop, and blast is a disease found all across the southern rice growing belt."

If Beam is available, many rice farmers will continue to produce a very good variety that is susceptible to blast, but they must know the product is available before they make their seed purchases this spring.

Beam has proven highly effective in combating blast in Southeast Asia and Japan, but due to its not being fully registered for use in this country, it is not available for use by American producers.

Efforts are underway to achieve full registration for the product, but with time as a factor, the Section 18 emergency use permit is necessary if Beam is to be available for the 1988 crop.

Guy Dye of G&L Firestone says tire rotation is a must for safety's sake and prolonged tire performance.

How to find a good mechanic

If you live in a small town, or have resided in one neighborhood all your life, chances are you've found a good auto mechanic (nowadays called "auto technician" in response to the explosion in technology). But pity the urban dweller who has moved into a new community. If you fall into this category or are unhappy with your present auto service, how do you find a good, competent technician?

Ask a number of friends or business associates if they can recommend someone; a consensus is usually more reliable than counting on one person's judgment.

Be sure to call the local Better Business Bureau or consumer organization and ask about the reputation of the places of business in question.

Check around for a technician certified by the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence. ASE determines the competency of automotive technicians by means of special written tests designed to correlate to real-world diagnostic and repair problems. Technicians voluntarily take these tough tests in from one to eight automobile specialties such as Engine Repair or Brakes. Those who pass (usually about two out of three on any individual test) and have two years' hands-on work experience are awarded ASE credentials—attesting their competency. ASE certified technicians are then eligible to wear the blue and white ASE shoulder patch. Not only are these credentials meaningful to the technician, they are reassuring to his employer, and mighty important to you. They are the extra assurance that your job will be done right the first time.

The Institute has certified over 320,000 technicians in its fourteen-year history. All technicians must recertify every five years in order to remain current with changing technology and to stay in the program.

Gary Ponthieux of Gary's Radiator Service advises car owners to have their cooling system flushed annually for long term performance.

AUTO EMERGENCY KIT

When packing for a vacation, include an emergency kit, says Car Care Council. Basic tools, plus jumper cables and a flashlight, can be the most important items in your car.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR BRAKES FROM LETTING YOU DOWN

What happens when you hear a grinding noise when you apply the brakes? What does it mean if you have to pump the brakes to stop the car? What does a glazed brake pad indicate?

The answers to these and a host of other questions about the functions of the brake system are in the easy-to-read pamphlet "How to Keep Your Brakes From Letting You Down."

For your copy, send 25¢ and a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope to: Brakes, Car Care Council, 600 Renaissance Center, Detroit, MI 48243.

Don't wait until it's too late

Tire and related automotive care is extremely important to motorists concerned about the safe and economical operation of their cars.

For more than 65 years, the National Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association (NTDRA) has shared that concern for the well-being of the nation's motoring public and offers these important car care tips:

Tire Inflation Proper inflation extends tire life and saves fuel. You can't tell when tires are underinflated just by looking at them. Since air pumps are not always accurate, NTDRA recommends that you either stop by a tire dealer for an inflation check or carry an air gauge in the glove compartment. Tires should be checked at least once a month and before any long trip. Underinflation creates excessive heat, which seriously reduces tire life and can cause tire failure. Also, underinflation can increase rolling resistance and lower miles per gallon.

Tires — Don't go bald early! At least once a month, inspect tires closely for signs of uneven wear. Uneven wear patterns may be caused by improper inflation pressures, misalignment, improper balance, or suspension neglect. If caught in time, the cause may be corrected. When the tread is worn down to 2/32nds of an inch, or wear bars, which look like thin strips of smooth rubber across the tread, appear on the tire, it's time to replace it. Don't wait.

Suspension — Suspension systems in need of repairs send out warning signals — excessive bounce in front or rear end when you push down on the bumper — rough, uncomfortable ride — leaking seals or deteriorating rubber bushings in shock absorbers. If any of these problems are noticed, motorists could avoid excessive and expensive damage to their cars and tires by having the suspension system checked.

Brakes — Squeaky is not always bad, but be careful. All brakes are susceptible to slight occasional squeal or grinding. This occurs after the vehicle has been sitting overnight or in unusual damp weather conditions. This noise will dissipate quickly, and has no effect on brake operation. However, if the noise continues, or brake linings haven't been changed for 20,000 miles, a professional check could be in order.

Alignment — Keep it going straight. If the car seems to pull to one side or appears to be traveling at an angle while all four wheels are straight, and the tire tread is wearing unevenly, the car is probably out of alignment. This could happen to a new or older car. To avoid permanent damage and the risk of driving a vehicle in this condition, NTDRA suggests a professional opinion.

Facts about wheel alignment

Is your car ready for "front end alignment" service? Don't be surprised to find out it needs rear wheel alignment too, says Car Care Council, if you own a front wheel drive car. These occasionally require adjustments to the rear wheels as well as to the front in order to gain perfect alignment.

Wheel alignment, which means the angular relationships between the front and rear suspensions, steering components, wheels and frame, is essential to proper handling of the vehicle. The Council answers a few of the more commonly asked questions about this critical aspect of vehicle maintenance.

What causes wheels to go out of alignment? The most common reasons are worn steering and suspension parts or impact with curbs, chuck-holes or other obstructions.

How can you be aware of a misalignment condition? Your first tip-offs are uneven tire wear and/or poor handling. An experienced technician can tell which aspects of alignment are misadjusted merely by looking at the tread wear pattern of the tires.

He also can tell by driving the car, whether it pulls to one side or the other, if it fails to return properly to a straight-ahead position after a turn, or if it shakes or vibrates.

How long should wheels stay in alignment? Usually a year or more, says the Council, if the car has good suspension components and if it has not been subjected to heavy impacts or accident damage.

What are the benefits of keeping wheels aligned? The most obvious advantages are longer tire wear and better steering. But safer driving and better fuel economy are important too. A car with misaligned wheels has a higher rolling resistance, resulting in more work for the engine to keep the car in motion.

Will wheel alignment correct most steering and handling problems? Most, but not all. A car cannot be aligned properly when parts are worn. Also, tires out of balance can cause shaking, which will be exaggerated when shock absorbers are weak.

Even when everything is perfectly aligned, concludes the Council, a car may steer or handle erratically due to imperfect or unevenly worn tires.

KEEP AN EYE ON YOUR CAR'S FILTERS

Do you know how many filters are on your car? Which one is the most neglected? What's a "severe service driver?" The answers to these and many other questions about your car and its various filters are given by cartoon character Car Care Carl in "Keep an Eye on Your Car's Filters," a brochure offered by Car Care Council.

For a copy of this helpful pamphlet, send 25¢ and a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope to: Filters, Car Care Council, 600 Renaissance Center, Detroit, MI 48243.

TRANSMISSION COOLER HELPS WHEN TOWING

Will you be towing a boat or travel trailer this summer? If so, consider installing a transmission cooler, suggests Car Care Council.

This inexpensive, auxiliary unit can help prevent damage to the transmission from overheating. Your RV or trailer rental dealer can give you the details.

Auto Facts

THE LITTLE CAR THAT COULDN'T

MOST 4-CYLINDER CARS PERFORM WELL AND GET GOOD FUEL ECONOMY WHEN FIRING ON ALL FOUR. HOWEVER, TESTS SHOW A TYPICAL SMALL CAR WITH JUST ONE CYLINDER MISFIRING REQUIRES 54% MORE TIME TO ACCELERATE FROM 25 M.P.H. TO 55 M.P.H.

IN THE SAME TEST ON AN 8-CYLINDER CAR, THE ADDED ACCELERATION TIME WITH ONE CYLINDER MISFIRING WAS ONLY 28% GOOD PERFORMANCE IS A SAFETY FACTOR IN SITUATIONS SUCH AS ENTERING AN EXPRESSWAY OR PASSING ON A TWO LANE HIGHWAY.

SUMMONS
CIVIL ACTION NO. 19,433
THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI TO: ROBBIE JOE SPEARS, WHOSE PRESENT RESIDENCE AND ADDRESS IS UNKNOWN.
You have been made a Defendant in the suit filed in this Court by SARAH JANE SPEARS, Plaintiff, seeking relief of divorce. Defendants other than you in this action are none.

You are required to mail or hand deliver a written response to the Complaint filed against you in this action to Claude P. Kincaide, Attorney for Plaintiff, whose address is P.O.
Box 260, Pearlinton, MS. 39201.
Your response must be mailed or delivered no later than three days after the 25th day of February, 1988, which is the date of the first publication of this summons. If your response is not so mailed or delivered, a judgment by default will be entered against you for the money or other relief demanded in the complaint.

You must also file the original of your response with the Clerk of this Court within a reasonable time afterward.

Issued under my hand and the seal of said Court, this 25th day of February, 1988.
